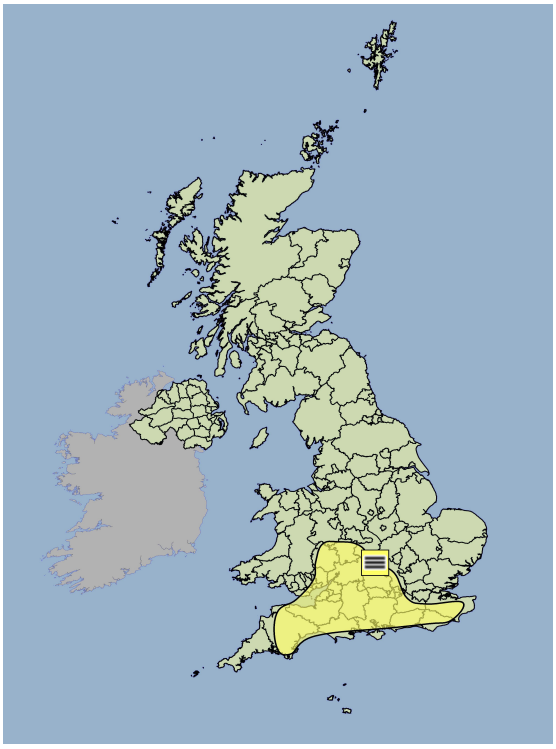
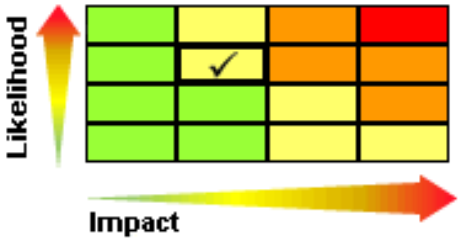
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Clear skies and light winds overnight has lead to fog developing in southern areas, with some dense patches in places. The fog will take some time to clear this morning, but the more dense patches should have cleared by 10 am.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Fog

Valid from 05:30 on Sun, 20th Sep 2015 until 10:00 on Sun, 20th Sep 2015

Fog will become fairly widespread and locally dense at first this morning across southern parts of England, the southwest Midlands and into southeast Wales. Visibility will be reduced to 50 to 100 metres in places, leading to difficult driving conditions.

The fog will gradually thin and lift into low cloud through the morning.
